

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention discloses a liquid crystal display device, which includes an upper polarizer; an upper substrate under the upper polarizer; a liquid crystal layer under the upper substrate; a lower substrate under the liquid crystal layer; a lower polarizer under the lower substrate, the lower polarizer including at least one light shielding film in the peripheral portion; and a backlight device positioned under the lower polarizer.